

Paul Boross

The Pitch Doctor, BIG SKY / MB Productions

Paul Boross is a highly-acclaimed renaissance man whose achievements encompass prime time TV, business success, chart topping hit records, and transforming the lives of thousands of people with his unique brand of motivational psychology. He is an internationally renowned business trainer, media commentator and advisor to film stars, music moguls, business leaders and politicians around the globe.

Paul is probably the worlds only pitch specialist, business trainer and life change expert to have real front-line experience of both motivational psychology and high profile television/stage presentation and comedy.

As a authority in communications, presentation skills, performance, and pitching skills, Paul has coached and developed a large number of leading media businesspeople, politicians, doctors and performers in the art and science of 'getting the message across'. He is also a respected keynote speechwriter and performance coach for many top business, professional, political and entertainment clients, including Sir Richard Branson and Dermot Murnahan.

In 2005 Paul presented the BBC2 prime time series, Speed Up Slow Down and has recently been featured in ITV's 'Wannabe' (advising young people on the psychology of breaking into TV and the music business), The Politics Show (BBC1) and Radio Five Live and BBC Radio London.

His music and comedy career – including 12 years headlining at The Comedy Store - has seen hit records across the world and more than 3,000 performances in Europe and the US. In conjunction with Tony Hawks, Paul was the creative force behind the extremely successful Morris Minor and the Majors. They toured the UK and America extensively and scored worldwide chart hits including the number one hits Stutter Rap and This is the Chorus. Paul, with Ainsley Harriott was one half of the comedy-singing duo The Calypso Twins. They were regulars at The Comedy Store, Jongleurs and many US comedy clubs, and had a major turntable hit with their single World Party. As befits a man of many roles, he has been a regular guest with The Comedy Store Players on improvisation nights (with Paul Merton, Josie Lawrence, and many others) and trained and worked with Mike Myers (Second City, Saturday Night Live, Wayne's World, Austin Powers) in advanced improvisation skills at TCS.

As a media and business entrepreneur Paul has had considerable commercial experience and success on both sides of the Atlantic. He has worked in television for over 20 years and won creative awards in several different media. In television he has created, written and produced, and executive produced shows for the BBC, ITV, Channel 4, STV, Sky, Disney and Nickelodeon as well as working for FOX and Comedy Central in the United States. Amongst the shows he has helped create and develop are Speed Up Slow Down, Celebrity Restart, LOL (Laugh Out Loud), Make me Laugh, 'Magination, Family Values, Comics Only, and The A-List.

He has had development deals with BBC, Ginger Television, Disney, STV and Nickelodeon and subsequently executive produced some of their highest rated shows. Paul was involved from the inception of the world-wide hit film The Aristocrats which also starred the cream of the world's comedy talent including Robin Williams, Whoopie Goldberg, Eric Idle, Billy Connolly and Eddie Izzard. With Henry Marsh, he also composed and performed the title song.

Paul is joint Managing Director of MB Productions, which has an enviable reputation of being one of the most successful music production companies in the UK. MB has created original composed music for almost 300 shows from every major channel in the UK and the USA in the past 18 years.

His training company BIG SKY are market leaders in the learning and development field and have a client list that includes GOOGLE, BBC, MTV and WWAVRC.

BIG SKY TRAINING

Big Sky offers global training for exceptional performance and integrated learning solutions.

They inspire businesses across a wide range of sectors by the education and transformation of their people.

Their team of highly professional trainers and executive coaches has more than 60 years of combined experience in training individuals and organisations. They put the emphasis on experiential learning through entertaining courses.

Big Sky help leaders and their teams become more effective, more productive and more focused by creating the high performance mindset needed to succeed.

All the trainers and coaches are chosen for their integrity, professionalism and humour. They all come from a highly successful and diverse business background so that they can immediately establish the respect of course participants and truly lead by example.

BIG SKY are market leaders in the learning and development field and have a client list that includes GOOGLE, BBC, MTV and WWAVRC.

The Big Sky values are communication, passion, integrity, achievement, service, growth, support, humour, continuous learning, commitment, excellence and fun.

Contact

Big Sky / MB Productions · 151 Earlsfield Road · London SW18 3DD · UK
T: +44 (0) 208 877 32 48
E: paul@mbproductions.tv · www.bigsky.me · www.mbproductions.tv
