

Prof. Klaus Keil*Formerly: Chief Executive and Managing Director, Erich Pommer Institut Institute for Media Law and Media Economy in Potsdam-Babelsberg

Up until 2012, Klaus Keil has been professor for “Interdisciplinary Media Economy” at the Academy of Film and Television “Konrad Wolf”, as well as Chief Executive and Managing Director of the Erich Pommer Institut.

Since his start as an assistant director, he has been closely connected to the Film and TV business. He has worked as a Production Manager and Executive Producer for German and international Film productions before becoming the director of Constantin TV and the Line Producer of Bavaria Film, Munich. In 1989 Klaus Keil was announced professor and dean at the Academy of Television and Film in Munich, where he set up Germany’s first programme on production and media economy.

From 1994-2004 Klaus Keil was CEO of Filmboard/ Medienboard, the joint film fund of Berlin and Brandenburg.

In 2005 as funding CEO he developed XEN.ON, a university TV-station. XEN.ON is a joint initiative by universities around Berlin and Brandenburg as well as the Medienanstalt Berlin-Brandenburg

Amongst others he is a member of the board of the Cottbus Film Festival and founding chair of the German federal association of production.

Klaus Keil is an Advisory Board Member of the ENTERTAINMENT MASTER CLASS.

Erich Pommer Institut

By providing practice-oriented research, academic teaching, industry training and media consultation, the Erich Pommer Institut consistently applies the latest observations and findings from the film, TV and music industries to a wide spectrum of fields. These include issues of media law (e.g. copyright and licensing law) and media economy (e.g. film financing and the trade in TV formats) as well as for instance the legal and economic aspects involved in media convergence.

The Erich Pommer Institut was founded in 1998 as an independent, non-profit GmbH (equivalent to private limited company) in Babelsberg, Potsdam. Sole associate is AGICOA Urheberrechtsschutz GmbH, an international copyright administration company for film and TV producers.

